The programme was an eye opener for all the faculty members and students present. It enlightened all those who have an exciting idea which may be in the nascent and planning stage and there is in need for mentorship and initial funding. The Biotechnology Ignition Grant will definitely help to support and nurture these early starters and their concepts.

We the Department of Food Technology, would like to thank Dr. Wahengbam Robindro Singh, Principal, S. Kula Women's College, Nambol for giving permission to organise this programme. We would like to acknowledge all the teaching, non-teaching and students for attending and making a fruitful programme.
